“ I miss you dearly, and I think about you frequently, I'm so sorry you are no longer here. There is so much I wish I could say to you now. Oh how I want to thank you for moulding me into the woman and professional I am today. There were times I didn't understand your methods, and we butted heads; but now, I find value in every lesson learned. I know you would be proud of me. You would also be happy to know that Gianna is now going to your Alma Mater.

I hope your mom, dad and Malick are doing well, I know they were your whole world. You were more than just my first manager, you were like a mother to me. I love you, and I miss you, rest up until we meet again.
